UNDER CIVIL RULE.

The President Has Issued His Philippine Proclamation.

Chaffee Relieved of Position

As Military Governor of the Archipelago--Text of the Americans Note to the Vatican and Proposals as to Disposition of Friars.

Washington, July 4.—Three things, marking one of the most important chapters in Philippine history, were accomplished through the issue of three separate orders and proclamations—by President Roosevelt, over his own signature, extending general amnesty to Filipinos; one through Secretary Root, by the president's order, relieving General Chaffee from his duties as military governor and placing the islands under complete civil control; and third, which takes the shape of a general order addressed to the entire army of the United States, in which Secretary Root takes occasion to express the president's high appreciation of the work it has accomplished, both in Cuba and in the Philippines. In part the amnesty proclamation reads:

"Whereas during the course of the insurrection against the kingdom of Spain and against the government of the United States, persons engaged therein, or those in sympathy with and abetting them, committed many acts in violation of the laws of civilized warfare, but it is believed that such acts were generally committed in ignorance of these laws, and under orders issued by the civil or military insurrectionary leaders, and whereas it is deemed to be wise and humane in accordance with the beneficent purposes of the government of the United States towards the Philippine people and conducive to peace, order and loyalty among them that the persons of such persons who have not already suffered punishment shall not be held criminally responsible but shall be relieved from punishment for participation in these insurrections and for offenses committed during the course of such insurrections, and pardon."

"It is therefore be it known, that I, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States of America, by virtue of the power and authority vested in me by the constitution, do hereby pardon, and declare, without reservation of condition, a full and complete pardon and amnesty to all persons in the Philippine archipelago who have participated in the insurrections aforesaid, or who have given aid and comfort to persons participating in said insurrections, for the offenses of treason, or sedition, and for all offenses, political in character, committed in the course of such insurrections pursuant to orders issued by the civil or military insurrectionary authorities or which grew out of internal political feuds or dissensions between Filipinos and Spaniards or the Spanish authorities, or which resulted from internal political feuds or dissensions among the Filipinos themselves during either of said insurrections."

"Provided, however, that the pardon and amnesty hereby granted shall not include such persons committing crimes since May 1, 1902, in any province of the archipelago in what time the civil government was established, nor shall it include such persons as have been heretofore formally convicted of crimes."

Every person who shall seek to avail himself of the amnesty proclamation must take the oath of allegiance to the United States.

NOTE TO VATICAN.

Text of the Proposal Submitted by Uncle Sam's Representatives.

Rome, July 4.—The American note has been submitted to the vatican. Cardinal Rampolla receiving it. The note begins with acknowledging the vatican's note of June 21, and says he (Judge Taft) is pleased that the vatican approves of the sending of Rome of a representative of the president with the object of arriving at a satisfactory agreement on the questions in dispute and see that the general views of the vatican are in harmony with the views of Secretary Root although on one of the important questions, namely that of the religious orders, there appears to be a difference regarding the methods to be adopted in order to remove the admitted difficulty.

The note proposes: The purchase of the land of the Dominicans and Augustinians at a price to be determined upon by five arbitrators, two to be chosen by the United States, two by the vatican and one by a neutral—say the British governor of India.

The arbitrators to meet in Manila no later than Jan. 1, 1903, examine witnesses and visit the land. The judgment of the majority to be accepted. The price to be paid in Mexican dollars, one-third immediately, a third in nine months and a third in 18 months, with interest at 4% per cent. Payment to be made to a person chosen by the vatican.

Cases of disagreement shall be submitted to the arbitration of the same arbitrators who shall also decide the San Jose foundation case, now pending before the supreme court of the Philippines. The United States to pay an indemnity for the buildings used by the American troops. But nothing is to be paid until the title deeds are in the hands of the Philippine government.

All Friars of the four orders shall withdraw within two years from the first payment. A small number are to continue during that time to look after the schools and universities, but all of them must go half during nine months from the first payment and half 18 months later, not including Friars who have not raised the hostility of the natives and who remained in their parishes after the revolution of 1898 till now except those in Manila. No Spanish Friars may be substituted for those withdrawn. The churches, schools and universities may be directed by Spanish clergy or orders other than those withdrawn or by clergy of the same orders who are not Spanish. It is necessary to convince the Filipinos that the ancient rule of Spanish Friars is finished. The note ends with calling the attention of the vatican to the classes regarding religious teaching in the public schools, saying that Judge Taft's instructions prevent further discussion of the matter. It also calls the attention of Cardinal Rampolla to the sixteenth section of the general law of Philippine schools, a copy of which is enclosed. The note is accompanied by the kind of contact which Judge Taft proposes will be signed.

CELESTIALS "CANNED."

They Are Not Wanted in the Alaskan Gold Fields.

Vancouver, B. C., July 4.—Five Chinese who recently went north to White Horse, to operate a brickyard, there were forced to leave that town and arrived here on the steamer Princess Mary from Skagway. These Chinese reached White Horse on the night of May 27 and on the following morning a committee of White Horse citizens ordered them to leave town at once. The Chinese demurred but they were forcibly placed on a freight train bound for Bennett, to which place their fares were paid. At Bennett United States customs officials conveyed the Chinese to Skagway, where they were placed on board the steamer.

A GOOD NIGHT

Was Passed by King Edward Last Night.

Slept Better Than Since the Operation—Can Move More Easily and Appetite Improves.

London, July 4.—The ten o'clock a. m. bulletin today is as follows:

"The King had a good night, slept better than at any time since the operation; the wound gives less trouble and his majesty can move in bed with greater ease. His appetite is improved."

(Signed) Trevelyan, Laking, Barlow.

Town Taken by Rebels.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, B. W. I., July 4.—News has reached here that after three days' fighting the town of Barquisimeto in the state of Lara, Venezuela, has been captured by revolutionists under General Lucio de Mendosa.

King Edward's Condition.

London, July 4.—Everything points to a satisfactory if somewhat prolonged convalescence of the king. It is expected that the bulletins regarding his condition will soon be reduced to one a day. Only small crowds haunt the board at Buckingham palace, which is an indication that public confidence has been restored. Only one physician remains at the palace throughout the night and all of the doctors are able to attend to the more pressing portion of their private practices.

Inciting Peasant Uprisings.

St. Petersburg, July 4.—Secret political agents are fomenting peasant uprisings in the Caucasus, similar to the recent outbreaks against land owners in the provinces of Kharkov and Poltava. The civil authorities who have been attempting to cope with the propaganda have been maltreated and driven out by riotous mobs. The governor of Stavropol, Ciscaucasia, has issued a proclamation threatening drastic measures in case of further trouble.

Attacked by Cholera.

London, July 4.—Special dispatches received here from Singapore, Straits settlements, declare that cholera is ravaging an expedition of 10,000 men which was sent up the Baling Lupa river in the territory of Sarawak, Borneo, to punish the head hunters. The dispatches say that 300 members of the expedition died from cholera in a single night. In London, however, nothing is known of such an expedition as the Singapore messages referred to.

RIOTS

Charged Against Strikers May Cause Trouble.

Mitchell Says There is no Change.

Rumor Current That Some Operators Will Raise Scale When Strike is Over.

Bail Demanded of the Italians Charged With Inciting Riots Was Furnished and They Were Released.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 4.—President Mitchell has arrived here. In an interview he said there was no change in the anthracite strike. While in Illinois he reconciled the operators and miners in one of the bituminous districts. Mr. Mitchell was also of the opinion that his visit to Saginaw, Mich., would have good results. He arranged matters so that an early settlement of the difference between the operators and their miners will in all probability take place.

Joseph Wosko, Joseph Hipwosh and John Pichel, strikers from Drifton, were brought to this city and given a hearing before Magistrate Pollock, charged with engaging in a riot at that place. After the evidence of several deputies had been heard, the defendants were held in $500 bail each for trial at court. Friends furnished the necessary bail. Catherine O'Brien and Mary Jones were arraigned before Magistrate Pollock charged with committing an assault on a policeman at the Prospect colliery. The defendants were fined $10 and held in $500 bail.

It is reported in coal circles that as soon as the strike was over Coxe & Brothers, at Drifton, intended to give their employees a 10 per cent. voluntary increase in wages.

Colliery Stormed.

Shamokin, Pa., July 4.—A mob stormed the Greenough colliery. The men hurled stones and clubs through the windows of the engine room and office. Watchman Rhodes opened fire at them with his revolver and they fled. A strong guard is now posted about the operation. Since the strike water has been continuously hoisted from the mine. The ninth district United Mine workers executive board fixed the basis of representation of delegates from the local assembly at one vote for every hundred members.

Score of Strikers Arrested.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 4.—Twenty strikers were arrested at Williamsport for interfering with the non-union men at work in the mines of the Lykens Valley Coal company. The charge is disorderly conduct. The strikers took two non-union men from work and marched them to their homes, after forcing them to agree not to return to work. Serious trouble is threatened in the region, although Sheriff Reiff is doing everything possible to maintain order.

Trial of Captain Ryan.

Manila, July 4.—The trial by court martial of Captain James A. Ryan, of the Fifteenth cavalry on the charge of being unnecessarily severe and arbitrary in his dealings with the natives of the province where he was stationed, has been called. Major Edwin F. Glenn, Fifth infantry, appeared for the defense. The evidence adduced showed that the president and vice president of the town of Jiminez, island of Mindanao, were arrested for conferring with the insurgent general, Rupno. They declined to talk and Captain Ryan ordered their arms to be bound and ducked their heads in a bucket of water. The prisoners confessed. Afterwards they were not submitted to any other punishment. It is believed that Captain Ryan will be acquitted.

Reply of the Packers.

Chicago, July 4.—The packers made defendants under the government in proceedings under the anti-trust law some time ago filed an appearance in the office of Clerk Sampwell, of the United States circuit court. The next important step in the litigation will be taken on or before August 4, when the packers will have to file their answer, plea or demurrer. Persons who are acquainted with the situation say it is possible that the defendants may take no steps to have the temporary injunction set aside. As far as the government officials can learn the packers are obeying the temporary order issued by Judge Grosscup June 20.

FAST TRAIN HELD UP

OHIO OLIG.

Happenings in the Big Buckeye State. Trains Held Up.

Zanesville, O., July 4.—A deluge has done much damage to railways and crops in Muskingum county. Baltimore and Ohio No. 47, a through train from Baltimore to Chicago, is lying in the ditch at Sonora, eight miles east of Zanesville, half submerged in water. None of the crew or passengers were injured. Baltimore and Ohio 112 is held up between two washouts at Black Hand, 15 miles west. There are big washouts on the Pennsylvania at Ellis, 10 miles north, and the Bellaire, Zanesville and Cincinnati railway train is stranded 15 miles to the east.

Made Concessions.

East Liverpool, O., July 4.—There will be no strike of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters this year and 8,000 pottery workers breathe easier. Definite announcement was made by the officials of the brotherhood that peace should be established. Conferences were held between committees representing the Western Manufacturing Potters' association and the brotherhood. It was announced that while an agreement had been reached, it could not be said that all matters were arranged to the satisfaction of the brotherhood officials. Both sides made concessions.

Massillon, O., July 4.—One of the Massillon Coal company's mines at North Lawrence near here is on fire. The fire originated from a powder blast and burned all night before it was discovered. Thus far all efforts to check it have been unavailing.

Vander Groeben, Erie, Pa.; secretary, E. Kramer, Cincinnati, O.; assistant secretary, Miss Made Inger, Dayton, O.; treasurer, Louis Mahr, Cincinnati. The next convention will be held at Erie, Pa.

To Settle the Strike.

Chicago, July 4.—Business Agent Ireland of the International Association of Machinists has returned from Garrett, Ind., where more than 1,000 machinists, blacksmiths, boiler makers and their helpers are on a strike to prevent the extension of the piece work system in the shops of the Baltimore and Ohio road. A short conference was held by him with local officials of that road with a view to settling the strike. On telegraphic advice from the east further conference was postponed until next Tuesday, when President L. F. Lorce, of the Baltimore and Ohio system, will be in the city and will take part.

Boy Shipped as Express.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 4.—Just before the through American express train from New York to Chicago arrived here an 18-year-old boy was found concealed in a dry goods box in the Boston express car. The box was tagged to Choney, Wash. The parcel was put off here and the boy was taken to jail. He gave his name as William Edmondson, Boston. He said that he had a friend ship him from Boston as express. The box contained two loaves of bread and a bottle of water.

Bold Attempt Made to Rob a Rock Island Express Safe.

Messenger was Fatally Shot.

Large Amount of Gold was Carried on the Train, But Robbers were Frightened Away Before It was Taken. One of Them Captured.

Joliet, Ills., July 4.—Three highway night held up express train 5 at Dupont near here on the Rock Island road. The train was moving at a rate of forty miles an hour, when two masked men climbed over the tender and leveling revolvers at the engineer and fireman, ordered them to stop. The engineer put on airbrakes and brought the train to a stand still. The men ordered him to dismount, made him walk to the express car as decoy, and ordered him to ask the messenger to open the door. When the messenger appeared the burglars began shooting threatening to blow up the car with dynamite unless he gave up the valuables in his possession. Assistant messenger Kane drew a pistol and was shot through the groin. The highwaymen then ordered the engineer to put out the headlight and uncouple the engine. By this time the passengers began piling out to learn the cause of the shooting. This frightened the highwaymen, who fled. Two of them escaped, and the third, Chas. Lessler, was captured by the train crew, and taken to Joliet police station. Kane, the wounded messenger, was taken to Chicago at 3 o'clock this morning. His wound is very serious. There was an unusually large amount of gold in the express safe but the robbers got none of the cash.

PRESIDENT IN PITTSBURG

Greeted by Greatest Crowd that Ever Assembled in the Smoky City.

Pittsburg, July 4.—This is greater moments a start to Schenley park was made. So great was the crush, that the movement from the depot to the park was very slow and it was nearly eleven o'clock when the park was reached. There the demonstrations and enthusiasm was such as to cause further delay. Finally when a semblance of order prevailed, the exercises at the presidential stand were rendered.

BODIES MANGLED

Three Detectives of Central Railroad of New Jersey, Killed.

New York, July 4.—The bodies of three detectives of the Central railroad of New Jersey, hideously mangled, were found early this morning on the track between Claremont and Communipaw avenues, Jersey City. They were Robert E. Holmes, aged 35, John Coynove, aged 35, and Wm. J. Hansen, aged 25. From the position and condition of the bodies when found, they were probably all struck by the train. No report of the accident has been made at the railroad offices. Possibly the men were murdered and placed on the tracks to hide the crime. They were employed to protect the property of the company in the yards. The men did not work. The police are thoroughly investigating the deaths, although they hold to the accident theory.

The ENGLISH SUCCESSION

YEARS ago when Prince Albert, eldest son of the then Prince of Wales, was a fine, stalwart young fellow, apparently destined to live the allotted years of man, the younger son, George, was not a leading figure in the affairs of the British empire. The chances of his ever succeeding to the throne were considered very remote, for the elder son was just at the marrying age—was, in fact, engaged to be married—and the line of succession would, it seemed, be certainly continued through him. But his untimely death made the second son the heir to the throne on the death of his father, and the "sailor prince," who had been of secondary importance, suddenly acquired a new dignity in the eyes of his countrymen.

George Frederick Ernest Albert, who is next in line of succession as monarch of Great Britain, is the second son of King Edward VII. and Queen Alexandra. His elder brother, Prince Albert Victor, died Jan. 14, 1892, leaving this young man in direct succession to the throne of England.

George was born just thirty-seven years ago and is a healthy and good looking man. While he has, since his marriage in 1893 at least, led a life entirely free from anything that savored either of folly or worse, he was from his early childhood a most mischievous boy. It was for this reason, it is said, that his father decided to send him to sea.

This royal son was the "enfant terrible" of the family. He was much given to pranks and jokes and was always active and energetic. On his entrance into the royal navy, with his elder brother, the royal cadet was placed in the lowest class and had to work his way up like his fellow students. He took his turn in the work aboard ship without favor or privilege.

This method of training led to that love for the sea and the sailor's profession which has lasted throughout his career. It also served to inculcate that spirit of democracy and simple taste in dress and manner for which he is noted.

His life at sea also developed a good natured and convivial spirit. As a young far he was pugnacious and liked to fight with his fists, and he did not disdain a glass of grog. In England he has always been known as "the sailor prince."

His years of strict naval discipline, however, undoubtedly had the effect of toning him down, and today the grave, quiet young man would hardly be recognized as the same sailor prince whose love of pranks and practical jokes endeared him to his people. He is still a good sportsman in the best sense of the word.

Prince George was promoted to be sublieutenant in 1884, when he joined her majesty's steamer "Canada" on the North American station, and in October of the following year, after passing his examinations with great credit, he became a lieutenant. In 1889 he received his first command, a torpedo boat, and the next year commanded a gunboat on the north Atlantic station. His latest command afloat was in 1898, when he visited many seaports in Finland and Ireland.

Prince George was created Duke of York, Earl of Inverness and Baron Killarney in 1892, in which year he became heir to the throne by the death of his elder brother. He was promoted to captain in the royal navy in January, 1893, and in the following May his engagement to Princess Victoria Mary, who had been affianced to the Duke of Clarence, was publicly announced, and the marriage was celebrated on July 6.

Last year, accompanied by the Princess Mary, he made a tour of the British dominions and arrived in Canada at the time of the death of President McKinley. On his return to England he was created Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester.

In appearance King Edward's successor has nothing distastefully British about him. His beard and mustache are almost red, and his hair is dark brown. He is about 5 feet 9 inches in height and weighs about 150 pounds.

As Prince George he married Princess Victoria Mary of Teck, popularly known as Princess May, on July 6, 1893. The princess is the granddaughter of the first Duke of Cambridge, Queen Victoria's uncle, and is therefore related to blood, though not closely, to her royal husband. Her mother married the Duke of Teck, and the Princess May was born in Kensington palace on May 26, 1897. Her girlhood was spent like that of any other young woman of noble birth, but owing to her close relations with her second cousin, the late Queen Victoria, with whom she was a prime favorite, she has always been popular.

Of the four children of the royal pair Prince Edward Albert, the eldest, will be king of England some day if he lives. He was born on June 23, 1894, and today is a healthy, well grown, sturdy boy of eight, whose childhood has been spent mostly out of doors with his brothers and sisters, the Princesses Albert and Henry William Frederick Albert and the Princess Victoria Alexandra. Upon his father's accession to the throne this youngster becomes by right of birth Duke of Cornwall and York, and his father may at any time make him Prince of Wales also, for that title is not hereditary, although it can be held only by the eldest living son of the reigning monarch. The revenues of the dukedom of Cornwall, which this little fellow will inherit, amount to over $400,000 a year.

The first official announcement of the death of a British sovereign is that which is made to the successor of the throne by the lord chamberlain, who at the same time acquaints the new ruler with the fact of his succession.

At the earliest possible moment the privy council convenes, and members of that body resign and are immediately reappointed and re-sworn. At their first meeting as advisers of the new sovereign the members of the cabinet formally give up their seals of office, whereupon they also are re-sworn to their respective departments. Both houses of parliament meet, and the announcement of the death of the sovereign and the accession of his or her successor is followed by each member of both houses, beginning with the royal dukes in the house of lords, taking the oath of allegiance to the new ruler.

OLD PEOPLE

Do not always receive the sympathy and attention which they deserve. Their ailments are regarded as purely imaginary, or natural and unavoidable at their time of life. Disease and infirmity should not always be associated with old age. The eye of the gray haired grandchild may be as bright and the complexion as fair as any of his younger and more vigorous companions.

Good blood is the secret of healthy old age, for it regulates and controls every part of the body, strengthens the nerves, makes the muscles elastic and supple, the bones strong and the flesh firm; but when this life fluid is polluted or poisoned and loses its nutritive, health sustaining elements, then there is a rapid decline of the vital powers, resulting in premature old age and disease. Any derangement of the blood quickly shows itself in an ulcer, sore, wart, tumor or some other troublesome growth upon the body, and rheumatic and neuralgic pains become almost constant, accompanied with poor digestion and cold extremities.

S. S. S. being purely vegetable, is the safest and best blood purifier for old people. It does not shock or hurt the system like the strong mineral remedies, but gently and thoroughly cleanses the blood and stimulates the debilitated organs, when all bodily ailments disappear. S. S. S. is just such a tonic as old people need to improve a weak digestion and tone up the stomach. If there is any hereditary taint, or the remains of some disease contracted in early life, S. S. S. will search it out and remove every vestige of it from the system.

Write us fully about your case and let our physicians advise and help you. This will cost you nothing, and we will mail free our book on blood and skin diseases.

HAVE WOMEN INTUITION?

The Writer Says They Have Never Shown It In Literature.

Literature is the final expression of human thought. If women can lay claim to a special faculty of intuition, why do they not manifest it in their writings? Intuition, if it means anything, means the faculty that gets down to the germ of nations and character traits and houses of great traits into a central vortex responsible to the general public. Now, there are more female writers than male. No woman poet has ever written an inextinguishable line, a line that flashes spontaneously out of the unknown and casts an illuminating light upon the abyss. Woman has added practically nothing to our stock of familiar quotations. Take down your Bartlett or your anthology, and you may be surprised to find that from Mrs. Browning to Mrs. Meynell women have never coined a phrase which has passed into the common currency of speech. Mrs. Browning has indeed written fine lines, but nothing of hers can be said to have become a household word.

Nor has any woman novelist created any character that is generally recognized as typical. George Eliot has come closest with her Mislem and Mrs. Poyser. You would appeal only to the educated few if you described a person as a Tito or a Poyser. But call a man a Don Quixote, a Micawber, a Dogberry, a Falstaff, a Colonel Newcome, a Bill, a Parson Adams or Bob Acres, call a woman a Mrs. Malaprop, a Becky Sharp, a Beatrice, a Diana Vernon, a Mae Merrilies, and even the illiterate will mentally classify the individual as you wish him or her to be classified.

"Ah, but," you say, "in real life women are the true intuitions. They size up a man or a woman at a glance. They are never mistaken when they try to read their intimates."

I can only testify to my own experience. I have not found that women's snap judgments of character are infallible with any special verity. They form likes or dislikes quicker than a man does because they are quicker on the trigger of conjecture. They can only be one of two things, right or wrong. If time proves that they are right, as they must be in 50 per cent of cases, the right guess is remembered and treasured up by the slower minded man as an extraordinary instance of intuition. The wrong guess is forgotten. —William S. Walsh in Era.

The Same Old Story.

J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the U. S. and has been told and retold by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entirely satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies."

Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by Wm. M. Melville, old post office corner.

A report from the census bureau on the cultivation and consumption of tobacco in the United States shows an increase in both that clearly establishes the increasing popularity of "my lady nicotine." Of the divisions of the United States only Colorado, the District of Columbia, Nevada, Rhode Island and Utah failed to produce tobacco in 1907. The total production was $88,162,265 pounds, an increase of 77.8 per cent. over the crops of 1906. The value of tobacco products in 1907 was $283,070,546, a little more than half of which was in cigars and cigarettes. In cigars an average of 17.1 pounds of tobacco went to the thousand. We are asked to believe that four pounds went to each thousand cigarettes. Five states—Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Maryland and Illinois, in that order—made 69 per cent of the Nation's cigars. Last year tobacco paid in taxes to the federal treasury over $62,000,000.

Governor Nash and the leaders of the Republican party are at loggerheads over the calling of an extra session of the Legislature. Hardly can it be termed at loggerheads either, but there is quite a difference of opinion regarding the advisability of the time of convening the General Assembly in extraordinary session. The Governor is astounded at the far reaching effects of the decision of the supreme court and is inclined to issue his proclamation at once and have the Legislature meet in August. The party leaders, while admitting the necessity of an extraordinary session, do not fail to remember that in every instance such a session has been held, it has resulted in detroning the party in power. They are fearful of results.

Germany's acknowledgment that she recognized the Monroe Doctrine, as it developed by the publication of the papers in the Venezuelan controversy, is in marked contrast with the way European powers laughed several years ago at our intimation that we wished it respected. Since that time, however, there have been dollops in Manila and Santiago bay and on San Juan hill that have disclosed the fact that the old injunction to keep hands off the American continent has something back of it that is worth respecting.

According to Representative Cannon, (Republican), the estimated revenue of the Government for the coming fiscal year will be $631,000,000 and appropriations to date, including $50,000,000 for the isthmian canal, aggregate $750,000,000. Where is the deficit to come from?

The act repealing the major portion of the war tax went into effect Tuesday morning. All special taxes on bankers, brokers, public exhibitors, dealers and manufacturers of tobacco were repealed, and a large cut on other goods was made.

A billion dollar congress ought to give the country "unexampled prosperity."

To Investigate Panama.

Washington, July 4.—The work incident to the carrying out of the provisions of the Spooner amendment to the isthmian canal bill will be prosecuted with the utmost expedition consistent with the nature and magnitude of the interests involved. Attorney General Knox has designated Charles H. Russell, an assistant to the attorney general, to go to Paris and make a critical and exhaustive examination of the records in the case. Mr. Russell is exceptionally well equipped for the task. Under the direction of Mr. Knox, Mr. Russell will apply to the French court of cassation to complete certain essential proceedings and will verify records and proceedings in the case. While it is thought that a perfect title to the Panama canal property can be secured and any necessary concessions obtained from Colombia, the attorney general is unwilling to express himself on the subject further than to say that he is hopeful of success.

Why This Boy Suicided.

Springfield, Ill., July 4.—Alfred Radcliffe, 10, committed suicide by hanging himself with a halter in a barn on the farm of his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Tarwin, near Bath. He became despondent because his father, who lives near Chantersville, had sent him no money with which to purchase firecrackers.

MAJOR GARDENER ILL.

On the Verge of Collapse Owing to Strain of the Trial.

Manila, July 4.—The cross examination of Major Cornelius D. Gardner, governor of Tayabas province, by the board which is investigating the charges of cruelty, etc., brought by the major against American officers and soldiers, was continued. The case will be closed "shortly." There was much wrangling between the recorder and counsel for the major. The recorder made frequent objections to counsel conferring with his client when the latter was testifying, and counsel objected to much of the cross examination on the ground that the questions were designed to trip the witness. Major Gardner is ill and on the verge of nervous collapse, owing to worry and the strain of the proceedings.

Heavy Rainfall.

Des Moines, Ia., July 4.—North central Iowa experienced a heavy storm. The Chicago Great Western railroad lost 600 feet of track and a bridge. Washouts near Parkersburg delayed the Illinois Central. The Rock Island, because of washouts north and south, is running trains into Waterloo over the Illinois Central tracks. The Boone river rose five feet at Webster City. A large part of Waterloo is under water. One hundred yards of track on the Waterloo and Cedar Falls interurban railway was destroyed by a landslide. The electric and gas plants are closed.

A Mother's Deed.

New York, July 4.—Mrs. Margaret Lyman, wife of George Lyman, a bookbinder in government employ at Washington, drowned one of her children in Brooklyn. Mrs. Lyman came to Brooklyn two weeks ago in ill health and was visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Farrell. Mrs. Lyman took her two children, Margaret, 3, and Loretta, 7, for a walk. She wandered to Mill creek near Bergen beach, and taking Margaret in her arms threw her into the creek. The little one quickly drowned. The woman is in custody.

France and the Triple Alliance.

Paris, July 4.—In the chamber of deputies the foreign minister, M. Delcasse, replying to a questioner who asked if the recent renewal of the dreadnaught influence Franco-Italian relations, said that when the renewal was no menace to France, Italy, he added, would never lend herself to an aggressive policy towards France. The statement was greeted with cheers.

Shareholder Soaked.

Paris, July 4.—A shareholder of the old Panama Canal company named Donadieu, who opposed the decision of the civil tribunal approving the eventual cession of the canal property to the United States, was nonsuited by the court, which condemned him to pay 500 francs damages for the prejudice he had caused the new Panama Canal company by his improper action.

Alleged Embezzler Held.

Hartford, Conn., July 4.—Gordon C. Metcalf, alias John Cochrane, who was arrested in Bristol last Wednesday on the charge of embezzling funds of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, was held by the United States commissioner, E. E. Marvin, for extradition to Canada. Metcalf was not represented by counsel and declined to make any statement.

Not Her Husband.

New York, July 4.—Mrs. Leo Stevens, the wife of the aeronaut, said that it was not her husband who was killed by a fall while making an ascent at Louisville. The man killed, she said, was Frank Ierl, an employee of her husband, who lived in this city.

Reward For Forgers.

London, July 4.—The bank of England is offering a reward of £1,000 for the discovery and conviction of the persons who recently forged notes of the bank. It is 40 years since such a reward was previously offered by the bank.

Several People Injured.

FRIGHTFUL

Death of Mrs. Latchford, of Van Wert.

Victim of a Run-Away Dragged Three Miles

Over Country Roads and Paved Streets With Her Head Pinned Between the Shaft and Wheel of a Buggy.

Brief mention was made in the Times-Democrat's telegraph report yesterday of the death of Mrs. W. J. Latchford, of Van Wert who was killed in a horrible manner as the result of a runaway. The manner of her death was peculiar and could not have been more terrible according to the following graphic account contained in the Van Wert Bulletin:

"Persons hurrying along the street last evening, between half-past six and seven o'clock, to escape the fury of an approaching storm of wind, rain and lightning, were appalled by a sight that made the stoutest heart stand still. A large, powerful horse, hitched to a light buggy, dashed down Main street, at its highest speed, accelerated by fright and excitement, dragging between the front wheel and buggy bed the limp form of a woman. At the corner of Main and Market streets, the horse turned north and ran into the stable of its owners, Messrs. Frensdorf & Sheridan, the well known livermen. The outfit was one they had hired, little more than an hour before, to Mrs. W. J. Latchford, whose husband recently came here from Chicago to take the position of manager of the Royal Packing Company's works.

"The woman's head, resting on the axle, was wedged between the right front wheel and shafts so tightly that the wheels had to be taken off before the body could be removed. Life was extinct and the body was terribly bruised and crushed, the clothing torn and covered with dust, the result of a frightful run of nearly three miles over macadamized roads and paved streets. The head, turned slightly to one side, brought the back of the skull against the spokes in the wheel. In a space as large as a man's hand, on the back part of the head, the hair and flesh were worn away, exposing to view the bare skull. The long hair was wrapped around the hub and clung to the spokes, much of it having been torn out by the roots. Some slight protection was given to her head by her clothing, which was caught up and wound around the hub. The flesh was worn off her knees, a hole was worn in the toe of one shoe and another in the side of the other shoe. The neck and shoulders were broken and there was a long black and blue streak on the neck, extending from the right side of the chin to the left ear. A gash was also cut below the left ear. All the paint on the spokes and even the hard wood of which they are composed were worn away where they came in contact with the head. The only disfigurement on Mrs. Latchford's face, strange as it may seem, is a small blue spot on the lower lip."

CASING A WATCH.

How Ordinary Watch Works May Be Made More Efficient and How Silver Cases May Be Preserved.

Ordinary watch works may be made more efficient and more durable by careful and strong casing. The finest grades of watch works require very strong casing to protect their delicate mechanism. The best of all cases for either class is the Jas. Boss Stiffened Gold Watch Case.

This is a gold case stiffened in the center with a plate of hard metal to prevent it getting thin and weak and bending down on the works, as a gold case does after a few years' wear.

The outside plate of gold is very heavy, much more than is ever worn from a solid gold case and much more than can be worn off in a third of a century's hard service. In fact this outside plate of gold is a quarter of an inch thick when the process of rolling down commences. At any rate, the Jas. Boss case is guaranteed 25 years, and none was ever known to wear out.

The styles of the Jas. Boss case are very elegant—the same as the finest solid gold case—beautifully hand carved, superbly finished—very thin or very massive, as fancy may dictate—and in all sizes, for men and women's wear. The price is much lower than that asked for a solid case—the reason is that the Jas. Boss case saves you paying for gold that is never used.

Jewelers everywhere keep a full stock of these elegant cases—they have sold more than 7,000,000 of them in the last 35 years. Ask your dealer to see them, or for the book showing why a Jas. Boss Stiffened Gold Case is better than a solid gold case, write to the Keystone Watch Case Company, Philadelphia.

Miss Townsend Entertains. Other Society Events.

Miss Ruth Townsend entertained about ninety young people at a party given at her home on west Market street, Tuesday night. The yard was a prettiness with myriads of lanterns hanging from each convenient branch and in between trees. Bonfires of small candles circled each tree trunk and lanterns cast a fantastic light over the porch which were filled with palms, ferns and palms; but the center of attraction was the dancing platform with rows of lanterns at around it. Here a few youngsters played the most popular dance for the summer of twenty numbers and several songs. The young people only starting time between dances to enjoy the small tables scattered beneath the trees on the lawn.

Following were the out of town guests: Miss Daisy Pullen, of Findlay; Miss Mary Annat of Wooster; Miss Marion Ayres, of Newark; Miss Zola Davis, of Indianapolis; Miss Edna Lowe, of Haverhill, Mass.; Miss Margaret Shank, of Louisville; Mr. Garvan, of Fremont, Mo.; Arthur Hibbons, Mr. Charles Alderman and Mr. Kent Blair, of Ft. WASHINGTON LETTER

(Special Correspondence.)

"Uncle Joe" Cannon was chairman of the select committee which had in charge the reformation of representatives hall. Among the other things promised the members for this session was an elaborate system of ventilation by which cold air could be forced up through a series of ducts so as to reduce the temperature of the hall and make it comfortable in hot weather. The members have been waiting for the cold air, but so far none has been felt. The temperature in the house is the same as in the senate and in the corridors of the capitol. Congressman Watson walked over to Mr. Cannon one afternoon when there were more members in the restaurant than there were in the house. The Indian's collar was melted, and his face was beaded with perspiration.

"Uncle Joe," he asked seriously, "where is that cold air we voted money for last session?"

"Yes, where is it?" echoed Mr. Cannon as he mechanically mopped his forehead with his handkerchief. "I told those damned fools on the committee that I was not in favor of buying anything I could not see, but they were bound to do it."

Threatened Boycott Won.

The rich Senator Clark wants to put up a big building in Washington's most aristocratic and exclusive spot—on Dupont circle, next to the Leisters' and a couple of doors from the new marble palace of R. W. Patterson of the Chicago Tribune and only a few steps from the new home of the Wadsworths. All kinds of excitement, indignation meetings to protest at the impudence of these new rich and to devise ways and means to block him. So he was told he would be given the "double cross" in a social way if he did it. Not a dinner of his would they go to, not a dance would their daughters attend, not a card would their footmen leave at his door, and all their friends—in so far as they could be persuaded—would stick up their noses and say cutting things about the senator from Montana. The threat was good. The site is still vacant. The architect was told to call off his plans.

Destruction of Trees.

Representative Lacey of Iowa is a cherry picker, or was when a boy. This does not apply to political cherries, but to the real things.

"In my native state we used to go out from school to gather cherries," said Mr. Lacey during a debate on the floor. "Once I remember wondering why the teacher took along an ax. I soon found out. It was to cut the trees down, so that we could pick the cherries easily. I am sure there are lots of members here who have had a similar experience."

The Lowan's illustration was to show the reckless destruction of trees of all kinds. He insisted that men were inclined to regard trees as their enemies. That came from the pioneer idea of subduing the forests as they had to subdue the savages. In these days he insisted that trees were civilized, as well as men, and that the fact should be recognized.

To Test Pneumatic Tubes.

Representative Greene of Massachusetts has introduced a bill for the installation of a pneumatic tube service between the capitol and the government printing office. There is a belief at the capitol that if the pneumatic tube service is to be inaugurated here in Washington for purposes of demonstration it could better be done between the capitol and the government printing office than between any other two points in the city. The amount of manuscript and other copy passing between the buildings daily is enormous, requiring constant messenger service.

The Powers Didn't Meet.

In one of the deep window recesses just off the main entrance to the house is a sort of grumblers' corner, where secretaries to members meet nearly every morning. They exchange grievances there and in voluble language discuss the personal characteristics of their employers before these employers arrive. Sometimes this flow of conversation becomes as noisy as the chatter of a flock of blackbirds. The plain citizens who figure in the opening scene of Julius Caesar are not more emphatic than these clerks at $100 per month.

The other day there was no gathering in the grumblers' corner, and one of the facetious doorkeepers posted a sign on the window:

"The powers will not meet today."

Presidents and Alligators.

The president held an informal reception in his office the other afternoon, and a number of visitors were presented to him. One lady introduced herself as from Jacksonville, Fla., and said:

"Mr. President, I have come all this way just to see you. I have never seen a live president before."

Mr. Roosevelt seemed much amused. "Well, well," he said, "I hope you don't feel disappointed now that you have seen one. Lots of people in these parts go all the way to Jacksonville to see a live alligator. I wonder which kind of tourist feels the most sold."

Lord laughter by the president.

New Grace reformed church.

Ground has been broken for the erection of the new Grace Reformed church at the corner of Fifteenth and O streets northwest, more commonly known as "the president's church" by reason of its attendance there.

The new church will stand directly in front of the small brick structure now used by the Grace Reformed congregation as a place of worship. It will be built of granite and Cleveland graystone and will cost, including furnishings, except the organ, about $40,000. The interior will be finished off in quartered oak in sixteenth century Gothic style. CARL SCHOFIELD.

A QUIET DAY

With Plenty of Noise Saw the Advent of the Fourth in Lima.

One Distressing Accident Occurred This Morning and the Police Were Busy Keeping the Jollifiers Within Bounds.

An occasional fizz-bang-boom on the outskirts of the city yesterday announced the advent of another Fourth of July, and as evening approached the noise of bursting cannon crackers became more frequent and the celebrators less cautious of the authorities who were determined to confine the fireworks to the day America rejoices. The shades of evening brought forth the lurking army of lads, who seemed to be awaiting the signal for a concerted movement, and from six o'clock until almost midnight there was a confusion of ear-bursting, head-racking noises that drove the nervous and less patriotic citizen to as near an approach to a padded cell as his home afforded.

The older ones, not content with the inoffensive penny cracker, loaded themselves with explosives that warranted the detonation of a ten-inch gun, and not a few of these "covergrown boys" made themselves as noisy as possible, frightening ladies by dropping bombs at their feet or firing blank cartridges within an inch of their heads.

The city, outside of the burning of powder, was without excitement or interest. No celebration had been arranged for and those who really enjoyed the holiday found their pleasure either at the Catholic picnic held at the fair grounds, at McBeth's lake or in some adjacent town where a special program had been advertised.

The busiest place in Lima was at the police station, where complaints were continually coming in, and not a few arrests were made during the night and day some for using too much internal fire to celebrate the day, and others for handling Chinese fire in a manner that threatened the lives of others.

ARM BROKEN.

Cannon Shooting Results In Injury to an Aged Man.

One of the most deplorable accidents of the day occurred about 9:30 o'clock this morning. The victim was an aged man and the result may prove serious. A crowd of young men and boys, all old enough to have exercised better judgment, were firing off some home-made cannons on the east side of Main street directly opposite the main entrance of the court house. Each cannon was heavily loaded and when ready to be fired they were laid on the brick pavement and backed up against the curb. It is alleged that some of the loads contained solid substances but this is denied by the boys who were doing the firing. When one shot was fired, an aged man, who was standing on the east side of the street, was seen to stagger and grasp his right arm with his left hand. He then walked over to the boys who were loading the cannon and advised them to do no more shooting, saying that he had been shot and that his arm was broken. He was taken into Vorkamp's drug store and from there was escorted to the police station and Dr. Steiner was summoned.

The victim of the accident proved to be T. J. Mitchell, a resident of north Main street. An examination of his right arm disclosed a ragged wound in the muscles and flesh and a fracture of the bone about two or three inches above the elbow. The injured man was removed to his home in Jones & Williams' ambulance.

The police learned that two of the young men who were firing the cannon were named Mullen and Keller. A piece of brick was found on the sidewalk where Mr. Mitchell was standing when hit and was found to fit a broken brick in the pavement where the mouth of the cannon had rested.

The police secured two of the cannons that were used by the crowd of overzealous celebrators but made no arrests.

POLICE WERE ACTIVE

In Trying to Keep the Jollifiers Within Reasonable Bounds.

Many succeeding Fourth of July brings to light the intention of some new invention machine capable of making more noise and doing more damage than the predecessor. "Remember Rogers this morning," "and about the only way to end a habit is to legislate against it. It is growing to be a decided nuisance and some restriction should be placed on the manufacture and sale of the explosives now in use."

Scores of indignant protests have been phoned to police headquarters during the day, and not a few have come in person to complain of rude boys and even men, who take a chief delight in frightening women and children. Chief Mills gave orders to make arrests whenever an officer detected an open act of this nature and the practice was in a manner broken up. The cannon that were being used in front of business houses on north Main street near the corner of North street were confiscated by the police after the accident to T. J. Mitchell, and orders were issued against placing explosives on the street car tracks. A powder, which was but little less powerful than dynamite, was being used in this manner and the arrest of one of the parties followed, but he was released after the box of explosives was delivered to the police.

ST. JOHNS PICNIC

Drew a Big Crowd of People to the Fair Grounds.

There is a big attendance at the second annual picnic given under the auspices of St. John's church at the fair grounds, and the day was replete with amusements of all kinds. Prizes were offered for the different events of the day, including races of all kinds and a clay pigeon shoot managed by Elmer Marshall.

A big dinner was served from 11:30 until 2 o'clock and there were plenty of refreshments to be had at any hour. A special performance given by the Hibernian order was one of the principal features arranged for, and a full account of the big affair will be given tomorrow.

BLANK CARTRIDGE

Master Vergil Crites, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Crites, of west Market street, shot himself in the palm of the left hand at four o'clock this morning with a blank cartridge pistol. The wound was a very painful one, made more so by necessary probing in order to clean the tissues of the wadding and powder.

The little fellow was decidedly brave and stood the ordeal for some time before an anesthetic was administered. Dr. Collins and Dr. Frank Steiner dressed the injury and there are not likely to be any serious results.

STILL ALIVE

But the Doctors Entertain no Hope.

Details of the Accident to Orley Drake, a Former Lima Stenographer.

The last report from the bed side of Orley Drake, formerly of Lima, who was struck by a Clover Leaf train at Brookton, Ill., says that he is still unconscious and the physicians entertain no hope for recovery. His skull was fractured and he was taken to Charleston, where better surgical attention is to be had.

The details of the accident, are given by the Frankfort News as follows:

Drake was on freight No. 42, with engine 195 in charge of engineer Truesdale and fireman Mines. Conductor Stevens was in charge of the train. Drake was sent out to flag a west bound train, No. 5, as his train went in on the siding. Conductor Frank Taylor was on No. 5, with engineer Wilson and fireman Sutton.

Drake went back on the required distance and sat down on a tie with the lantern between his legs. In this position he fell asleep, and No. 5 tearing along at fifty miles an hour struck him.

The first report had him ground to death, but later reports state that he was still alive at 10 o'clock. He was taken to Charleston where he is being cared for. It is said it is impossible for him to recover and his death is looked for at any time.

Mr. Drake was formerly employed in the office of Supl. Floeter at Lima and later with Mr. Zortman when the latter was superintendent of this division of the Clover Leaf. He is about twenty-three years old.

A brief telegram received since the above was put in type says that young Drake died without gaining consciousness.

AUDITOR

Of Western Ohio Assigned to Service.

C. S. Thrasher, of Hamilton, the Appointee.

Comes Here Well Recommended as a Man Who Has a Promising Career in Inter-Urban Railroading.

Important changes in the executive staff of the Cincinnati, Dayton & Toledo Traction Company were announced today, says the Hamilton Republican. Auditor Charles Thrasher has been assigned to Lima, Ohio, where he will become auditor of the Mandelbaum Syndicate's new Western Ohio Railroad Company. Mr. Thrasher will be succeeded in Hamilton by John T. Huntington, of Lorain, O., at present auditor of the Lorain Street Railway Company. Mr. Huntington will arrive in Hamilton on next Sunday and Mr. Thrasher will probably leave for Lima about July 15.

A wide circle of friends and all the employees of the C. D. & T. Traction Company will regret Mr. Thrasher's removal from Hamilton. He came to this city from Cleveland over a year ago and has become very popular with Hamilton people. His connection with the Southern Ohio and C. D. & T. Traction Companies has been marked by conspicuous success and there is no doubt that a promising career in interurban railroading lies before him. The Western Ohio Railway Company will, it is expected, become a link in the proposed Cincinnati-Toledo system.

RECOVERED

A Fine English Setter That Was Stolen.

Attorney Kent Hughes Got His Dog, Which Was Sold by a Tramp at Portland, Ind.

Attorney Kent Hughes, who has been worrying over the loss of his fine English setter, found him yesterday at the home of Ira Robbins, a brakeman who lives at 123 Second street. Mr. Hughes got a tip which put him on the track of the dog and he had no trouble in identifying his property. The antics of the dog when he caught sight of his old master would have been sufficient evidence to establish the right of owner.

Mr. Robbins was not at home at the time, and the family was at supper. After taking the chain from the dog Mr. Hughes announced himself and left with the request that if Mr. Robbins had any claim to make he could call at his office.

When the latter returned home and learned of Mr. Hughes' visit he went to his office and explained that the dog was sold to him at Portland, Ind., for $3. Mr. Hughes offered him $25 to identify the man who made the sale, but it is Mr. Robbins' opinion that the fellow, who looked very much like a tramp, will not be very easy to find.
